1 - What does it mean to “name a 3D model of a coral”?

You will have the opportunity to name a coral from our 3D model coral database (Sketchfab gallery) and receive a digital coral kit, which includes a virtual 3D model replica of the coral you've symbolically adopted. You can utilize this 3D model on your social media platforms and share it with your friends. Likewise, you can even view it in augmented or virtual reality! The coral model will contain information such as species, location, and more.

With your subscription, you'll be supporting our coral research project in Costa Rica and become the steward of one of the Costa Rican coral colonies we're studying as part of our research.

The digital coral kit also includes a certification, a postcard featuring your coral, and exclusive updates, including insights into the potential secrets of your super coral.

Digital coral KIT includes

4 - What does “support an Innoceana research expedition” mean?

With this tier, you will support one day of our research work in the Eastern Tropical Pacific.

Our research begins at the Innoceana Ojochal Center and spans the entire day, starting from early morning (5 am) until dusk (6 pm).

The research expedition involves venturing into the Pacific Ocean, monitoring the coral reef, collecting samples of water quality, gathering coral samples for immunology studies, conducting surveys, including 3D modelling, and engaging in other conservation activities.

During the expedition day, we patrol the Marine Corridor of Osa. Occasionally, we also conduct wildlife rescues, primarily of birds, sea turtles, and cetaceans, trapped in debris. Additionally, we collect litter found along the way.

Once back at our facilities in Ojochal, the research team processes all the collected data and transports the samples to our laboratory for testing.

Your contribution here is ESSENTIAL for coral conservation.

Tiers: Defender & Guardian

5 - What does “exclusive updates of a research expedition” mean?

After supporting a research expedition day, our research team will compile an expedition report, which you will receive by email one month after the expedition occurs.

The research report will include (among other details):

- Activities conducted
- Team members involved
- Collected data (water quality, surveys, reef health, etc.)
- Duration of the expedition
- Photographs and videos of the corals
- Any noteworthy occurrences
- Acknowledgment for your support

Tiers: ONLY Guardian

6 - What does “to participate in a research expedition” mean?

By participating in the 'Guardian' tier, you will have the incredible opportunity to join the Innoceana research team at our Marine Conservation Center in Ojochal. You can bring one person with you, and our team will assign a staff member to accompany you during our research expedition day.

This unforgettable experience will be supported by your contribution to our mission of rewilding the ocean and preventing coral extinction.

After your donation, our research team will contact you to invite you to one of our expeditions.

Tiers: ONLY Guardian

7 - What does “video summary of the expedition and mention” mean?

At the expedition, we will capture videos and photos of the research team and supporters working together.

Around one month after the expedition, our storytelling team will compile these visuals into a video, which will be shared with the supporter and on our social media platforms. We will tag and acknowledge the supporter in the video, but only if the supporter agrees to it.

If the supporter is unable to join the expedition day, we will create a video of the expedition with the Innoceana team.

8 - What is the “recognition on our Donor Wall”?

At our conservation center in Ojochal, Innoceana has a DONOR WALL recognizing individuals like you who have generously supported our mission.

As a 'Guardian', your name will be added to our Wall of Donors in Ojochal.
